DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Regarding claim 5, the phrase "and the like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "and the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Monsen (US 3,879,664; cited and applied for the first time).

Regarding claims 1, 3, and 5-7, refer to FIG. 1 of Monsen where the claimed diversity combiner reads on the DIVERSITY COMBINER 14 and the claimed combiner control agent reads on the ADAPTIVE FORWARD TRANSVERSAL FILTER EQUALIZER 13 since it generates a control parameter for each of the received signals to control combiner modification of the signals in generating the composite signal based, at least in part, on one or more quality values generated (via the DATA DETECTOR AND ERROR GENERATOR 16) during baseband processing (note that this occurs after the DEMODULATOR 15) of prior composite signal(s).

Regarding claims 2 and 8, attenuation (amplitude) and phase shift value as control parameters are taught throughout the disclosure of Monsen.

Regarding claim 4, the claimed baseband processor reads on the DATA DETECTOR AND ERROR GENERATOR 16.

6. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Saito (US 4,989,262; cited and applied for the first time).

Regarding claims 1, 3, and 5-7, refer to FIG. 1 of Saito where the claimed diversity combiner reads on the summing amplifier 11 and the claimed combiner control agent reads on the Interference Canceller(s) since it generates a control parameter for each of the received signals to control combiner modification of the signals in generating the composite signal based, at least in part, on one or more quality values generated (via the A/D converter 14) during baseband processing (note that this occurs after the DEMODULATOR 12) of prior composite signal(s).

Regarding claims 2 and 8, attenuation and phase shift value (see Amplitude & Phase Controller 6-1) as control parameters are taught throughout the disclosure of Saito.

Regarding claim 4, the claimed baseband processor reads on the A/D converter 14.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

9. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Monsen or Saito as applied above.

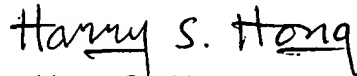

Monsen or Saito already plainly teach attenuation and phase shift value as control parameters. Thus the limitations of the equations are a matter of pure design choice and do not rise to a level of patentability.
